(54) Title: ENTITLEMENTS OF OBJECTS AND RESOURCES

(57) Abstract: The invention relates to securing information in a secure access system. In one embodiment a method secures information in a conditional access system to authorize a functional unit. The functional unit has requirements related to the functional unit. A transmission conduit is entitled to a content receiver. Rights related to the functional unit are received. The rights are correlated with the requirements. The rights are checked against the requirements.
